

Golden Plains Youth Jemma Mizzi, Jayden Scheier and Charlie Waldie.

Council is inviting emerging leaders to be the difference in the community and make a positive impact on young people by joining the Golden Plains Youth Activation Committee (YAC).

The YAC provides young people an opportunity to have a voice in Golden Plains Shire and to advocate for themselves and other young people while developing their leadership skills.

Young people aged 12 to 25 years of age who live, work, study or socialise in Golden Plains Shire are invited to join the committee and provide valuable insights into the needs, opinions, strengths, and challenges of young people across Golden Plains.

Meeting weekly at the Golden Plains Youth Hub on Tuesday afternoons, the committee members will provide feedback on youth events and programs and will also have the opportunity to provide input into exciting new projects, ensuring the voice of young people is strongly represented in their development and execution.
