

The Corangamite Catchment Management Authority

invites you to

Discover your Bugs & Beetles

Join us for the launch of the new “Invertebrates of the Western Volcanic Plains” booklet and discover the world of terrestrial bugs and beetles. The booklet is the result of two field collections by the CCMA, landholders, community members along with entomologists Paul Horne and Jessica Page from IPM Technologies Pty Ltd.

AND

Be part of National Waterbug Blitz – a citizen science initiative that investigates how healthy waterways are simply by exploring and identifying what waterbugs they contain. At the Leigh River we will learn that waterbugs are important indicators of waterway health as we collect, sort and identify these creatures.

This is a free event and supervised children are very welcome to attend.
